Lawyers in Transition

Lawyers are facing many career challenges in these times. Lawyers Concerned for Lawyers offers a six-session Lawyers in Transition group. This confidential group for lawyers, judges and law students explores decision making and career alternatives within and outside the traditional practice of law. It may be appropriate for you if:

- You would like to be more fulfilled in your career
- You are a new graduate and have not found a job
- You have been laid off
- You are dissatisfied in your current job
- Your practice is slower than you would like
- You have been out of the workplace for a time and are seeking to return
- You are making decisions about whether to retire or slow down
- You are experiencing other career-related stress.

We will offer focused topics and facilitate the exchange of ideas between participants. A new six-session group will begin on Tuesday, February 11, 2020, 3:30—5:00 P.M. at the LCL office.

Contact Joan Bibelhausen at jbibelhausen@mnlcl.org with questions or to register. There is no charge for this program. Space is limited.
